Explanation

Words and figures inclosed in brackets [ ] are given for information, but do not appear on the title-pages of the publications catalogued. When size is not given, octavo is to be understood. Size of maps is measured from outer edge of border, excluding margin. The dates, including day, month, and year, given with Senate and House documents and reports, are the dates on which they were ordered to be printed. Usually the printing promptly follows the ordering, but various causes sometimes make delays. When Congress and session are not given with the numbers of Senate and House documents and reports, 62d Congress, 2d session, is to be understood.

General Information

The Superintendent of Documents is authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not otherwise provided for.

Documents can not be supplied by this Office free to individuals, nor can they be forwarded in advance of payment.

Documents entered in this catalogue that are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., are indicated by a star (*) preceding the price named. A dagger (†) indicates that application should be made to the Department, Bureau, or Division issuing the document, a double dagger (‡) indicates that the document is not obtainable, and whenever additional information concerning the method of procuring a document seems necessary it will be found under the name of the Bureau. The Senate and House documents and reports are issued in limited editions, and unless otherwise indicated, may be obtained only through Members of Congress.

In ordering a publication from the Superintendent of Documents give the name of the issuing Department, Bureau, or Division, and title. If publication is numbered give number also. Do not order by Library of Congress card number.

Read carefully the instructions "How to remit," found at the bottom of the next page.

The accumulation of publications in this Office amounts to over a million, of which several hundred thousand are assorted, forming the sales stock. Many rare books are included, but under the law all must be sold "at cost," regardless of their age or scarcity.

In ordering, it should be borne in mind that many of the books have been in stock some time and are apt to be shop-worn. In filling orders, however, the best copy available is sent.

No general price-list of public documents is available, but lists on special subjects will be furnished on application.

MONTHLY CATALOGUE DISTRIBUTION

The Monthly catalogue is sent to each Senator, Representative, Delegate, and officer in Congress, to designated depositories and State and Territorial libraries, to substantially all Government authors, and to as many school, college, and public libraries as the limited edition will supply.

Subscription price to individuals, $1.10 a year, including indices. Back numbers can not be supplied. Please notify the Superintendent of Documents of any change in address.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CARDS

Numbers to be used in ordering the L. C. catalogue cards will be found at the end of the titles of the more important monographic documents. The figure following the card number (separated from it by a slanting line) indicates the number of cards required for entries suggested (title entry not included) on the cards. The price of the cards is 2c. for the first card and $\frac{7}{10}$c. for each additional card for the same title ordered at the same time. Remittances should be made to the Librarian of Congress. Cards can not be furnished by the Superintendent of Documents.

CUMULATIVE INDEX

The Index to the Monthly catalogue will be issued separately each quarter and will cumulate for the twelve months ending June, 1912. That is, the September number of the Index is an index to the Monthly catalogue for July, August, and September, the December number will be an index to the Monthly catalogue for October to December, the March number will be an index to the Monthly catalogue for January to March, and the June number will be the Index for the fiscal year 1912. Persons desiring to bind the catalogue at the end of the year should be careful to retain the numbers received monthly, as duplicate numbers can not be supplied.

HOW TO REMIT

Remittances for the documents marked with a star (*) should be made to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., by postal money order, express order, or New York draft. Currency may be sent at sender's risk.

Postage stamps, foreign money, defaced or smooth coins will positively not be accepted.

To facilitate the payment of the cost of documents, the Superintendent of Documents will hereafter accept coupons issued by him instead of cash. Coupons of the value of 5 cents each are sold in sets of 20 for $1.00. Address order to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office.

No charge is made for postage on documents forwarded to points in United States, Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, or to Canada, Cuba, or Mexico. To other countries the regular rate of postage is charged, and remittances must cover such postage.

Notes of General Interest

The 1911 annual report of the Isthmian Canal Commission is, like the previous reports of the present Commission, full of information and interest. Its 581 pages of profusely illustrated text are supplemented by a portfolio of maps and diagrams. The price for the text and maps is $1.60 in paper, $2.00 in cloth.

The recently issued 25th annual report of the commissioner of labor, 1910, is entirely given up to the great subject of industrial education. It presents the results of the latest investigations, showing the progress that has been made since the former reports on the subject by the Labor Bureau were made in 1892 and 1902. The conditions which make the need of greater facilities for industrial education one of the urgent necessities of our time are thus succinctly stated in the introduction to the 25th report: "Those who desire to fit themselves for business or professional life may secure a complete and well-rounded training, but for those who wish to take up a trade or a handicraft opportunities for an equivalent training are much harder to find. The old apprenticeship system has practically died out and the present system of subdivision and specialization in industry confines the beginner to one machine or one operation and gives him no chance to learn the trade as a whole. Consequently the ranks of unskilled and low-grade labor are overcrowded, industry suffers for want of skilled workmen, and the individual worker finds his life narrow and monotonous, his work a mere round of drudgery instead of a means of self-expression. Out of this situation has grown the demand for a system of education which shall meet the needs of workers of the industrial classes at least as thoroughly as the established system meets those of the professional and commercial classes." The Report comprises 822 well-filled pages and includes a bibliography of works in the French, German, and English languages, which does not aim at completeness, but is, on the contrary, rigorously selected, yet fills 19 pages and shows that the literature of the subject of industrial education is extensive. Cloth, 70 cents.

A revised edition of Chemistry Bureau Bulletin 16, which is a list of the officials charged with the enforcement of food laws in the United States and Canada, has been issued during the present month. The list is quite voluminous, as almost every State now has its pure food laws, and the names and addresses of all the State and Canadian officials interested in their enforcement are given, as well as those of the United States Government.

The Annual report of the chief of the Bureau of Insular Affairs for 1911 is a hopeful and encouraging document. It maintains that the material prosperity of Porto Rico and the Philippines is greater than ever before and shows a steady increase, while progress in other directions is continuous. The chief declares that to-day more Filipinos speak English than were ever able to speak Spanish.

Labor Bureau Bulletin 95 treats very fully the subject of industrial lead poisoning, a trouble which is more widespread than is generally understood.

Calosoma sycophanta is the scientific name of a handsome green beetle about an inch long which makes its living by devouring the larvæ of the gipsy moth. Entomology Bureau Bulletin 101 tells of the life history and behavior of calosoma and of its successful colonization in New England, where it is man's chief hope for the extermination, or at least the control, of the gipsy moth, our most insatiable devourer of foliage.

Miss Alice Henkel, the Agriculture Department's expert on the plants which from traditional days have filled the housewife's medicine chest, has compiled a new bulletin, published by the Plant Industry Bureau as no. 219, title: American medicinal leaves and herbs. Price, 15 cents.

Weather Bureau Bulletin 39 is: A course in meteorology and physical geography. It is a text-book of an unusual kind and sells at 20 cents a copy.

Root-knot and its control is Plant Industry Bureau Bulletin 217. This is a prevalent plant disease and to know how to control it is a boon to every farmer. 15 cents.

The annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency for 1911 supplies tremendous figures demonstrating the great and growing wealth of this country. The total bank resources are more than 23 billions. There are 140 clearing houses, and the aggregate of their transactions for the year ended Sept. 30, 1911, was more than 159 billions. This country's stock of gold is larger than that of any other country, being over 1,700 millions or 26 per cent of the total world supply. The United States has also the largest stock of silver, $729,000,000. The general stock of money in the country is $3,556,000,000, of which $342,000,000 is in the public treasury, $1,545,000,000 in the banks, and $1,668,000,000 in the pockets of the people.

The Postmaster General has submitted (in House document 105, 62d Congress, 1st session), a report, which is a big quarto volume of statistical tables, giving the results of an inquiry as to the operation, receipts, and expenditures of the railroads transporting the mails. The conclusion is reached that by a readjustment about $9,000,000 a year may be saved to the Government.

A further supplement to the General Land Office Manual for surveying instructions is Ephemeris of the sun and Polaris and tables of azimuths of Polaris for the year 1912. 5 cents.

The Interior Department has set afoot a new and promising idea for the stimulation of popular interest in the great national parks of this country, which exceed in number, magnitude, and scenic wonder those of any other country. The Department has secured from the various railroad companies which reach the parks a set of 77 large-scale photographs of the most striking views in the various parks. This remarkable collection the Interior Department offers to lend to public libraries and other educational institutions for free exhibition, the only condition being that the institution receiving them shall pay transportation one way. A descriptive circular of 16 pages, cataloguing the pictures and giving descriptive passages from the writings of Rudyard Kipling, John Muir, Joaquin Miller, Gouverneur Morris, Gordon Cumming, Diller, Hague, Stoddard, Baker, Stanley, White, and other distinguished writers who have been impressed by the colossal scenery of one or more of the great national reservations, has been printed for general distribution. Attached to the circular is a properly addressed blank to be used by citizens who wish to have their names entered on a mailing list to receive official information concerning the parks. This seems a well-devised and commendable plan for arousing popular interest in the great national parks.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue in his 1911 annual report expresses plainly his belief that a large amount of oleomargarine, costing the retailer 12c. to 15c. a pound, is sold for butter at 25c. to 40c. a pound. He advocates a lower tax, to be collected on the colored and the uncolored oleomargarine alike, saying: "Had the tax been two cents a pound instead of a nominal rate of ten cents and an actual rate of one-fourth cent a pound the revenues would have been increased by $1,793,100.79, a large sum expended in attempting to enforce the present statutes would have been saved, and the corruption of great numbers of American citizens, as well as a fraud on the public to an extent not generally dreamed of, would have been prevented."

Regulations 30 revised, Internal Revenue Commissioner, is Regulations and instructions relative to the manufacture, sale, and use of denatured alcohol. Though this fuel for the production of power did not answer the expectations of many by springing into universal use as soon as it was relieved of taxation, its use has become considerable and is growing.

A Farmers' bulletin for which there long has been inquiry is no. 475, Ice houses, showing how to build and stock these necessary adjuncts to the modern farm equipment.

The Synopsis of the report of the Tariff Board on schedule K, relative to the duties on wool, has been printed as Senate document 210, 62d Congress, 2d session. It is also found in the Congressional record, v. 48, no. 16.

For the first time of which we have record the President's message informing the Congress of the state of the Union has been this year published in parts, or separate messages, each part discussing a different topic. Message no. 1, sent to the two Houses at the opening of the current session, Dec. 5th, considers anti-trust legislation. Message no. 2, sent in December 7th, discusses foreign relations. Message no. 3, laid before Congress Dec. 20th, has for theme Tariff schedule K, Wool, and the report of the Tariff Board thereon, and no. 4, transmitted Dec. 21st, deals with the finances. There may be more to come.

The hunt for potash in America in commercial quantities and under commercial conditions continues. The Geological Survey contributes to it an advance-printed chapter from Mineral resources, 1910, entitled Potash salts, their uses and occurrence in the United States. Also, The search for potash in the United States, an advance-printed chapter from Bulletin 530. Also, Occurrence of potash salts in bitterns of the eastern United States, another advance-printed paper from Bulletin 530. 5 cents each. There is also in press for early publication a Report on potash submitted by the Secretary of Agriculture. It will be printed as Senate document 190, 62d Congress, 2d session. No Department edition is to be issued.

The Railroad Securities Commission, of which President Hadley of Yale was chairman, held four hearings during 1911, but the reports of them have not been printed. The Report of the Commission is thus far its only publication. It is one of the most important documents of the current month. Its numerical designation is House document 256, 62d Congress, 2d session.

Agriculture Department Report 96, produced by the coöperation of the Bureaus of Soils and Plant Industry, discusses Soils of the prairie regions of Alabama and Mississippi and their use for alfalfa.

Part 5 of National Museum Bulletin 50, Ridgway's The birds of North and Middle America, long awaited by the numerous owners of Parts 1–4, has now been issued. Part 1 was published 1901; Part 2, 1902; Part 3, 1904; Part 4, 1907; Part 5, 1911. Parts 1–4 have been long out of stock in the Public Documents Office, and probably out of print also except for possibly a few copies of Part 4. It has been understood that 8 parts would be required to complete this very important contribution to natural history.

The refractive index of beeswax is the attractive title of Chemistry Bureau Circular 86. 5 cents.

The 9th volume of the Labor Bureau's 19-volume Report on condition of woman and child wage-earners in the United States has been issued. Its specific title is: History of women in industry in the United States. The document number for the whole 19 volumes is the same, 61st Congress, 2d session, Senate document 645.

Animal Industry Bureau Bulletin 146, Varieties of cheese, descriptions and analyses, a revision of Bulletin 105 of the same Bureau, will interest not only dairymen, but also many in the class known as "good livers." The number of varieties of cheese is much greater than most people know of. The descriptions and analyses fill 74 pages and there is a 4-page index.

FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Professional paper 28, Engineer Department, U. S. A., Report on testing hydraulic cements, with specifications for the several classes used by the Engineer Department, though published in 1901 and long out of print, is still in demand and rated as a standard manual on its subject. Numerous readers will be glad to know that this manual has been under revision for a long time past by a board of Engineer officers and that their labors are nearly completed. A new and revised edition of Professional paper 28 may therefore be looked for at no distant day.

The report of the north Atlantic coast fisheries arbitration, held at The Hague in 1910, is in course of publication in 12 volumes, four of which will be taken up with the arguments to which The Hague tribunal was required to listen. The leading counsel on the American and British sides spoke for eight days each—not eight hours, eight days. Another point for which this arbitration is remarkable and probably unique is the fact that both sides are pleased with the verdict, each of the contending nations holding that it got the better of the other. When it can be expected with confidence that all arbitrations may have an equally happy ending the millenium will be at hand. The north Atlantic coast arbitration set will be issued in an unnumbered cloth bound edition for distribution by the State Department, and also in a numbered Congressional document edition—61st Congress, 3d session, Senate document 870. The Congressional print includes the "usual number," from which the depository libraries are supplied.

Vol. 1, Official register (Blue book), 1911 edition, has been in the hands of users for several days. It contains the names, places of employment, and pay of all those in Government employ, both those who direct and those who are directed, except the members of the postal service, who have volume 2 to themselves. Volume 2 will not reach the public until some time in February. Price, per vol., $1.25.

The report of Mr. Gaillard Hunt, chief of the Manuscripts Division, Library of Congress, shows that vols. 19, 20, and 21 of the Journals of the Continental Congress are ready for press but have not been printed because the appropriation for printing has given out. Mr. Hunt's report, which contains several matters of interest to librarians and historical students, is not printed separately but is included in the Annual report of the librarian of congress.

A paper by Major F. F. Russell, Medical Department, U. S. A., The control of typhoid in the Army by vaccination, was ordered printed Mar. 2, 1911, as House document 1445, 61st Congress, 3d session. The House also ordered 37,000 extra copies in addition to the "usual number." Major Russell is booked for an address on the same very important subject next month before the American Medical Association. It is understood that in this address he will give the results of the latest tests and observations, bringing the history of the subject up to date, and that the address will be published as a document of the Army Medical Department.

EMPLOYER'S LIABILITY AND WORKMAN'S COMPENSATION COMMISSION

Some librarians have found the plan of publication of the hearings before the Employer's Liability and Workman's Compensation Commission confusing.

The Commission was authorized by House joint resolution 127, of the 61st Congress, 2d session, reprinted in the slip-law series as Public resolution 45, and in its final form, in the Statutes at large (vol. 36, p. 884), given the number 41.

Something has been done toward eliminating these misleading changes of number, so that a project of legislation may be known by the same number at all stages of its existence, but evidently not enough has yet been done.

Under authority of Resolution 127–45–41, which was approved June 25, 1910, the Employer's Liability and Workman's Compensation Commission is composed of two Senators appointed by the President of the Senate, two Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House, and two citizens appointed by the President of the United States. Senator Sutherland of Utah is chairman.

The Commission held its first hearing May 10, 1911, the testimony taken being printed in an unnumbered and uncovered pamphlet of 34 pages. The next hearings were held June 14 and 15, 1911. The evidence then taken was published as Senate document 90, 62d Congress, 1st session, vol. 1. This was followed by Senate document 90, vol. 2, made up of briefs which had been submitted to the Commission.

The next hearings were held Oct. 16 and 17, 1911, and published without document number as Hearings before the Employer's Liability and Workman's Compensation Commission, Parts 2 and 3. Part 2 begins at page 545, the intention having been to connect it by continuous paging with vol. 2 of Senate document 90. As vol. 2 ended at page 514, there is a hiatus of 31 pages between vol. 2 and part 2. No explanation is given in or on any of the publications as to this hiatus, or as to the absence of part 1. It has been left to the Monthly catalogue to supply, for the benefit of readers and librarians, the much-needed explanation, which is that Senate document 90, vols. 1 and 2, is considered to be part 1 of the Hearings, and that the unnumbered pamphlet containing the hearings of May 10 is supposed to be interposed between document 90, vol. 2, and Hearings, part 2, thus supplying the missing pages. It is true that in natural order the hearings of May 10 should come before instead of after those of June 14 and 15, and that no unaided imagination could conjecture that vols. 1 and 2 mean part 1, and that the index which has been issued to parts 1 and 2 is embarrassed by the fact that in the arrangement decided upon pages 1 to 34 are duplicated, but when the explanatory key has been supplied the solution is easy.

By concurrent resolution adopted Aug. 10, 1911, authority is given to print 3,500 copies of these hearings as a "public document" for the use of the Commission. In the phraseology customary in bills and resolutions the term "public document" usually means a numbered Congressional document, though it is true that there are many public documents which are not numbered and not issued by direct Congressional authorization. It is understood that under the authority given August 10 all the publications of the Commission will be brought together under one document number, in one or more volumes, with unbroken paging. In that revised print it would be advisable to use a uniform title-page, differing as much from that used in the existing print of part 3 as that one differs from the title-pages of part 2 and document 90. Part 3's title-page gives Public resolution 45, approved June 25, 1910, as the authority for the creation of the Commission, but also states that the hearings were held pursuant to some unnumbered and undated act, apparently other than Resolution 127–45–41. There is, however, no such act. The much-numbered resolution is the sole warrant for the Commission and its work, and of course no other is required, the authority being ample as it stands.

These explanations are given, not by way of cavil, but to make clear matters which some librarians have found confusing.

The report of the Commission is due, by law, January 1, 1912.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE IMMIGRATION COMMISSION

The extensive series of reports of the Immigration Commission, long awaited, have now begun to issue from the Government press, and a detailed schedule of the volumes has been published.

The Commission was created by virtue of an act of Feb. 20, 1907, and consists of three Senators named by the President of the Senate, three Representatives named by the Speaker of the House, and three citizens named by the President. Senator Dillingham of Vermont is Chairman.

The reports will fill 42 volumes. The method of publication chosen is somewhat complex. All are Senate documents of the 61st Congress, but some are listed as of the 2d session and some as of the 3d session. While there is a general title, Reports of the Immigration Commission, there are also several subtitles and numerous sub-subtitles. One of the subtitles, Immigrants in industries, is subdivided into 25 parts, each with a sub-subtitle, and one of these sub-subtitles is further divided into two volumes. The load of numbers and titles which one of these two volumes staggers under looks rather formidable when brought together, thus:

Reports of the Immigration Commission, vol. 18. Immigrants in industries: part 21, Diversified industries, vol. 2. Part 22, The floating immigrant labor supply. (Senate document no. 633, 61st Congress, 2d session.)

A book by any one of these numbers and titles would be more easily identified, but librarians have become accustomed to public document profusion and will know how to make allowance for it.

About a year ago the Commission had made for the convenience of its members pamphlet abstracts, averaging about 50 pages each, of its voluminous reports. Of these pamphlet abstracts comparatively small editions were printed, and they have not been generally available to the public. The abstracts, 21 in number, have now been collected, with a few of the briefer full reports, and reprinted as vols. 1 and 2 of the 42-volume set, these volumes being also designated as Senate document 747, 61st Congress, 3d session, both volumes carrying the same number. It is probable that most readers will be able to get a comprehensive and sufficiently complete view of the work of the Commission from these two volumes of abstracts. The whole 42 volumes will, however, in due course go to all the depository libraries.

The volumes which had come out of press up to the end of December will be found entered under the heading Immigration Commission in this number of the Monthly catalogue.

A SUSPENDED SERIES REVIVED

When it was a bureau of the Treasury Department, the Coast and Geodetic Survey began a series of numbered Special publications, no. 1 having been issued in 1898 and no. 7, the last one of the Treasury series, in 1902.

For 8 years the series lay dormant, and as lately as January, 1910, the compilers of the Checklist of United States public documents received assurances from the Survey that the series of numbered Special publications had been definitely discontinued, and this information was incorporated in the Checklist. There must have been a change of plan, for in November, 1910, a third edition of no. 5 was issued, followed in the present month by no. 9. Inquiry brought the information that no. 8 is in press.

Clearly, this series has been revived, and of course, like other Government series, it may go on indefinitely.

NATIONAL WATERWAYS COMMISSION

This important commission, of which Senator Burton of Ohio is chairman, is still engaged upon its report, which it is supposed will be presented to Congress in January.

By act approved Mar. 3, 1909, the term of the Commission was made to expire Mar. 4, 1911; but before that date was reached the act was repealed, and the term was extended to Nov. 4, 1911, and it was ordered that the final report of the Commission should be filed not later than that date. The Commission did expire November 4th—that is, the appropriation for its maintenance ceased, and of course when the life's blood of an official body is thus cut off the end speedily follows.

Nevertheless the time for filing the final report has been extended till January.

No provision apparently has been made for the printing of library editions of the fine list of documents, 22 in number, which has been printed for the exclusive use of the Commission.

THE GREATEST PUBLISHING OFFICE

As the season for printing the annual reports of the administrative officials of the Government arrives, a constantly recurring wonder is the printing activities of the Agriculture Department as reported by the Department editor, Mr. Joseph Addison Arnold, in his capacity as chief of the Publications Division. The copies of its publications issued during the fiscal year 1911 by the Agriculture Department reached the almost inconceivable number of 27,594,877, an increase of nearly 10 per cent over any previous year. Even this number was far from filling all demands, and Mr. Arnold thinks that 5,000,000 copies more might readily have been distributed.

CORRIGENDA

It is a little late to be noting an error in a document sixty years old, but such things can not be noted until they are found. Perhaps the one now in mind has been found by many librarians, but the first knowledge of it in the United States Public Documents Library came from a western correspondent to whom had been sold a copy of Senate executive document 1, 31st Congress, 2d session, containing the President's message and reports of Cabinet officers for the year 1850. This document is in two parts, bound together in one volume. Part 2 contains the report of the Secretary of War, which contains the report of the General-in-Chief, which contains the reports of the commanders of military departments, designated and distinguished by letters in common with some other statistical returns. Letters A to E designated five schedules in the form of large folded tables, inserted between pages 116 and 117. Our western correspondent missed from this series schedule D, Position and distribution of the troops in the Western Division, under the command of brevet Major General David E. Twiggs. As the location of troops in New Mexico at that time was the particular bit of historical information of which the correspondent was in search, he of course reported to the Superintendent of Documents the defect in the document. As there were in stock several copies in the "sheep set" and also several copies in the "Message and documents" print, all were examined, when it was found that schedule D was missing from all the sheep-bound copies, but was in all the Message and documents copies. Of course the document under consideration is not likely to be often called for, but in libraries even more than elsewhere it is the unexpected that happens, and librarians who have the volumes in question or either of them will do well to file the information here given where it will be available when the unexpected drops in.

O.K. in U. of M.

In the Annual report of the Coast and Geodetic Survey for 1896, Appendix 12 is Logarithms, their nature, etc., Part 1. No promise was given that succeeding parts should be published in succeeding Annual reports, but that was taken for granted in the Documents Office and elsewhere. Part 1 was published not only under the direction of Superintendent Duffield, but over his name as author. He also prepared the Annual report for 1897, but it was published by a new Superintendent, Professor Pritchett, who assumed office Dec. 1, 1897. The 1897 Report did not contain an additional part of the logarithm tables. In view of this omission, and of sundry inquiries concerning it, the Librarian of the Public Documents Library, on Aug. 25, 1898, called up the Coast and Geodetic Survey by telephone and asked whether Part 2 of the Tables of Logarithms would appear in the Survey's 1898 Report. The new Superintendent made prompt reply. It was an emphatic No. From that time to this nothing has been heard of any publications supplementary to Logarithms, Part 1. This lone part has, however, found favor in the eyes of some good citizens of the Republic, who to get it have bought copies of the 1896 Coast Survey Report from the Superintendent of Documents. The demand has not at any time reached the proportions of a rush, but it has been fairly constant, and the aggregate sales have amounted to perhaps 200 copies. Not until about a month ago was any complaint heard from a user of the logarithm tables. So far as this office was informed, the formulæ were supplying accurate bases for computation.

Something like a month ago a western correspondent informed the Superintendent of Documents that he had found an error in Appendix 12, Coast Survey Report, 1896. He said that on page 418, in the table headed Reduction of common logarithms, in the line of figures of the 2d column, opposite the number 9 in the first column, the first 3 should be a 2. This did not seem like a very alarming error, but as it might be the means of vitiating important computations it was thought advisable to inquire into the matter a little. On calling up the Survey, information was obtained to the effect that it was surprising the western correspondent had not found more than one error in the logarithm tables; that the Survey had found many, perhaps a thousand in all; that this was one of the two reasons why Part 2 had not been printed, the other being that the matter was not new, the same data being readily procurable from private publishers. This information concerning the shortcomings of Appendix 12 has not hitherto been published. It will come as a surprise to the buyers of the 1896 Report, whose faith in the trustworthiness of Government documents may thus be considerably undermined. They may rest assured, however, that this is an instance with but few parallels. The American people have general confidence in the authenticity and accuracy of Government documents, and their faith is justified by the facts.

An unfortunate but not irreparable error occurred in the published report of the proceedings relative to the death of Chief Justice Fuller taken by the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution at its meeting Dec. 8, 1910. The Smithsonian reporter extended his report by quoting from the proceedings of a meeting of the bar of the Supreme Court held Dec. 10, 1910, but failed to make an exact copy. Where the report (U. S. Reports, v. 219, p. xv) used the words "The Chief Justice responded", the Smithsonian reporter substituted the words, "Chief Justice Harlan, in responding to the words of the Attorney-General, said." As there was no Chief Justice Harlan, and as the words following were said by Chief Justice White, the mistake was awkward. It was not discovered until the full edition had been printed. It was necessary to reprint the leaf containing pages 121 and 122, substituting on the latter page the name "White" for "Harlan", and "tipping in" the reprinted leaf. The discovery was made in time to substitute the corrected leaf in the buckram-bound copies for the depository libraries. At this writing shipments to the libraries have not been made, but will be soon, and all will contain the correction. The "separate" entitled "Melville Weston Fuller, 1833–1910" (Smithsonian publication 2016) also contained the error, but has been reprinted. The corrected leaf has been mailed to the few persons to whom the 1910 Annual report had been sent before the error was discovered. The mistake of calling Mr. Justice Harlan Chief Justice is probably accounted for by the fact that after Chief Justice Fuller's death, and pending the appointment of his successor, Associate Justice Harlan had been acting as Presiding Justice ad interim.

Congressional record, vol. 40, Index, History of bills, page 556, H. R. 12987, 6th line under this number, the reference (S. Report 242) should read (S. Report 1242). This is the Senate report on the railroad rate bill, which originated in the House and caused a prolonged struggle between House and Senate in the 59th Congress, 1st session. The report was in two parts, part 2, the minority report, by Senator Elkins, having been so long delayed that it was found necessary to bind it in the reports of the 2d session, with an explanatory note. There were three conferences on the bill, and of course three conference reports. The third of these, House report 5076, was also printed as Senate document 525, 59th Congress, 1st session, a fact which does not appear in the Record index.

Chemistry Bureau Circular 82 corrects errors in the tables for lactose given in the Journal of the American Chemical Society, v. 29, p. 541–554. It also calls attention to the fact that the same corrections should be made in Chemistry Bureau Bulletin 107, revised, p. 243–251.

No sets of these are for sale or distribution, as most of the volumes are out of print. No general mailing-list of individuals is maintained. The reports can be had by purchase from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. The papers printed in the annual reports are published separately for free distribution. Publications should be ordered by the serial number.
